IAN'S ANNOUNCES AWARD-WINNING ALLERGY-FRIENDLY COOKIES

Innovation Joins Award-Winning Favorites for Food-Allergy Solutions.

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. – Ian's, the leading provider of high-quality, all-natural, allergy-friendly foods that consumers can trust, announces a full assortment of delicious cookies for families with dietary restrictions such as Celiac Disease.

Families avoiding wheat and gluten can choose from favorites such as Animal Crackers and bite-sized Cookie Buttons in Chocolate Chip and Cinnamon, offered in re-sealable 7oz packages and single-serve pouches perfect for school lunches and road trips.

Ian's newest item in the cookie aisle, Chocolate Wafer Bites, features delicious bite-sized wafer cookies coated in creamy dairy-free chocolate. Ian's Chocolate Wafer Bites are made with no wheat, no gluten, no milk, no casein, and no eggs, offering even more choices to families accommodating special diets.

"Ian's offers delicious, high-quality meal and snack solutions for families and kids with food allergies or intolerances," said Dena Zigun, marketing Brand Manager for Ian's. "Kids love cookies, and now families have several great-tasting, gluten-free, allergy-friendly option."

As with all of Ian's products, Ian's cookies do not contain hydrogenated oils, artificial colors, flavors or preservatives.
